Book Description

This adult coloring book pairs 38 clever and inspirational sayings with beautifully intricate hand-drawn designs to provide you with a relaxing way to remember and re-engage with the values on display at the protest marches in 2017. The messages in this book are chosen to represent our highest and kindest American values – those that seemed to be forgotten over the past years. Throughout 2017 an engaged majority protested – across the country and around the globe – to reclaim civility and common decency. They marched for love, acceptance and respect for all people in our communities and in our governments. In doing so, the marchers reminded us all that we are not alone, and we will weather this political storm. So grab some colored pencils, relax a bit, and get re-inspired to join the fight. Know that the strength of an engaged majority will win out in the end. Color Us United.
